To Whom It May Concern:

My coworkers and I have had the pleasure of the meeting the children performing with the Hip Hop Education organization. What a true blessing. It is indeed refreshing to witness children so young and talented. They were focused and driven. I feel these children definitely inspire their peers to set higher goals for themselves. I love the fact they have combined messages of safety with hip hop. I believe the messages are received loud and clear by both the young and old. I would highly recommend the Hip Hop children for upcoming and future local community events. We have had the pleasure of their services on more than one occasion and look forward to many more.
